Dear Friends

When we first went to France as a family I was getting ready for months: I tried to rehearse what I could remember of schoolboy French, I insisted on a corny french accent when talking about 'les vacances'. And we pored over the Michelin Map to discover how we were going to drive from the Channel to the coast! I had almost experienced the holiday before I got there! It was great.

Even spending two weeks in a caravan (I am not "made" for caravans) did nothing to ruin that holiday.

That trip was rounded off with a few days in London. This was a great experience for our young family.

Other times it has all been a rush: late nights putting final lists together for visiting preachers, contacting clergy to confirm cover for the absence, and those final calls in the hope the people I see will be there to greet me on my return, alive and well.

Yet, still the plane taking off or the parish fading in the rear view mirror or the shudder of the boat as it edges away from the dock, all say, "This is it! The holidays have started."

When Jesus said to his disciples, "Come apart and rest awhile", he was speaking to people who spent a considerable amount of their days walking, slowly taking in the sights, conversing together about what they had learnt during their day together. No fast travel, no high tech instant communication, no wall to wall entertainment by light and sound for them.

While the physical labours of life now are much easier for many people, the mental stress is perhaps considerably harder for many too. Just setting down the mobile phone and switching it off for a few days seems courageous.

Whether you need a holiday to renew the batteries, switch the pace from slow to fast or from fast to slow, or just to spend relaxed time with people you love, I hope you have had or will enjoy the opportunity of spending a relaxing day or two or more over the summer. And don't forget to spend some of that precious time with Jesus as you meditate, pray and worship.

Bring our greetings from St Andrew's and St Ignatius' to the people you meet while you are away.

And come back safely.

Stephen

PS Worship continues here while the sun is out! We miss you!

J Club Outing

J Club's final outing of the year was a visit to the Ark Open Farm.

J Club Plus Group went to Ten Pin Bowling & Mc Donald's

We returned to church for closing worship and treats.

The Leaders enjoyed a selection of desserts!!

J Club & J Club Plus groups have had an amazing year with FUN, FOOD and WORSHIP!

The mix of weekly activities, special events, outings and the 'God' slot made Friday evenings a 'Must'.

Thank you to all who helped and participated.

Parish Picnic

A beautiful summer sun shone through the leaves at Delamont Park as the parishes met there for the Picnic this year on Sunday 14th June. Organised by Stephen and Susan Creber the cars all entered free of charge and a long afternoon of eating, playing and conversation took place. We thank everyone for coming and look forward to doing the same thing next summer. A big thank you to Stephen and Susan for the arrangements they made for both parishes.

J Club & Killaney Youth Club Leaders' Trip

We are at the early stages of planning a possible HFH Build for Easter 2017.

To date, approximately 18 leaders have agreed to be part of this amazing venture.

We ask parishioners of both parishes to pray about the project as we plan and begin to fund raise.

Visit by James Boyd

A dozen men and some 45 women greeted James Boyd on Saturday 20th June as he paid his first visit to Killaney and Carryduff since his agreement to come here to speak at our Mission in October.

James was well received and his brief words were interesting but challenging. Glass milk bottles and hospital waiting rooms will never be the same again!

Tell your friends how engaging you found him, and invite them to come to the events programmed for October!

Unsung Heroes

Always in church - cheerful and enthusiastic,

Armed with bags of felt-tip pens and crayons,

Cardboard and glue, glitter and scissors,

Stories to read, pages to colour, Posters to make, prizes to give, Sometimes pots to fill with soil and seeds.

They bring their skills and talents with them.

The children love them.

What precious people we have in JILL and OLWEN,

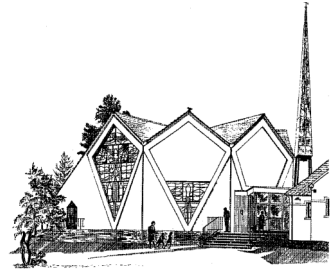

Our Sunday School teachers - Our unsung heroes.

For all the good work you do - Thank you.

50th Anniversary
A Celebration Dinner
On Friday 6th November 2015

In order to mark this very special anniversary for our Parish, the Select Vestry has booked a special "Banquet Dinner" to be held in

The Great Hall at Queen's University, Belfast.

Tickets for the Celebration Dinner, in this stunning location, cost £40 and can be obtained from:

Tony Anderson (028 9081 2040)

Stephen / Susan Creber (028 9263 8798)

Simon Guillebaud

Simon Guillebaud is speaking at Moira Parish Centre on Monday 29th June at 7.30 pm

Simon is an experienced mission partner working in Burundi in Africa. He is an inspiring and unsettling communicator and is highly esteemed by people in the Christian world.

Well worth a run out on a Monday evening. Word Alive's last event of the season is a trip to this night.

Meet at the Carryduff Hall Car Park at 6.45 pm.

Ephesians: Walking the Talk: a summer study

Walking the Talk:

How much do you understand the faith we profess?

How well do you live the faith you believe?

During the summer months, Sunday Sermons will focus on walking the talk: i.e. Living out what we believe.

We will be reading portions of the Letter to the Ephesians each week and trying to understand and apply what it means to be "in Christ".

We hope you will come along, and perhaps even read a portion of the letter before you come: think of it as light homework that you enjoy doing!

Poem

Of the three greatest blessings
That come from above,
One is Life, one is Health,
And the third one is Love.

May you take joy in life,
Give your health the best care
And send out your love
To mankind everywhere.

Children's Day

We thank Lauren for producing a music video of the year at Sunday School. Beginning with the part the young people played in 24:7 prayer, it included the Christmas Party, the Holy Week Bible Club and the regular Sunday School events.

At our Children's Day Service on 21st June, the members of Sunday School led the readings and prayers during the special service laid on for the day. After the children were presented with prizes, the leaders also received tokens of thanks from the parish.

Marvellous refreshments followed and no-one was in any hurry to get away. Another happy day at St Andrew's!

Raymond and Florence Coulter have kindly agreed to host a Summer Barbecue on Friday 17th July from 7.00 pm.

This is an effort to raise funds towards the cost of the new car parl at St Andrew's Church.

Tickets are £12.50 each and include good food and music, and a great evening's entertainment.

Killaney Car Park

During June the Select Vestry accepted a tender for the extension and refurbishment of the car park and driveways at St Andrew's. We anticipate the work taking place from the start of August. We thank all those who have supported the church finances over the years to make the start of this work possible: we still require considerable gifts to complete the work so any gift given will be most welcome. Using the FWO envelopes helps us reclaim Gift Aid, so please simply add an extra gift to your weekly envelopes.

A Prayer by an older person

Almighty God, who made each day to be lived to the full, please bless all older people.

Give us all that we need for friendship, comfort and leisure.

Above all, give us true joy, living one day at a time, free from anxieties, with peace in our hearts, trusting in Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen

Smile Lines:

Den: When W A Gilbert arrived at a provincial hotel to stay the night he was alarmed to find it filled by clergymen attending a theological conference. He confessed: "I felt like a lion in a den of Daniels." Hesketh Pearson, Gilbert & Sullivan

Raymond: Little Raymond came home beaming from Sunday School. "The teacher said something awfully nice about me in his prayer this morning. He said, 'O Lord, we thank thee for our food and Raymond.'"

Don't go far! The minister went to the bank and asked for a statement of his account, adding: "We want to know how far afield we can go for our holiday." Handing him his statement the cashier enquired very gently: "Have you got a field at the back of your garden, sir?"

Pray for Nepal

Pray for all those affected by the two devastating earthquakes in Nepal. Pray that God's love will comfort and heal. Pray for all the organisations working to help. Ask God to bless Habitat staff whose own lives have been turned upside down, but are working hard to get shelter to those who need it most. This week they are starting to rebuild core homes. Give thanks for the generosity and compassion of people across Northern Ireland who responded to our Emergency Appeal.

Raising Your Voice

Every minute 20 people die from conditions related to poor housing. Give thanks for our own homes and ask for God's blessings as we seek to put shelter on hearts and minds in such powerful ways that poverty housing becomes unacceptable. Thank God for our Speakers Team, a group of passionate and committed individuals who use their voices to increase awareness about the need for decent housing and inspire others to support our mission.

Habitat ReStore Team

Pray for the Habitat ReStore team as they work to serve the local community; helping families improve their home for less, while diverting tonnes of reusable waste from landfill. Give thanks for the 50 volunteers who give up their time every week to help in ReStore, volunteers from all backgrounds and abilities who come together to serve, learn new skills and build relationships across the community.

International Volunteers

Ask God to bless our international volunteers as they prepare to travel to support our partner programmes this summer. Pray that their experiences will be safe and rewarding, an opportunity to serve, and to learn about how housing breaks the cycle of poverty. Give thanks for their generosity, and that of their families and communities. Pray for Habitat's ongoing work and staff, in each of our partner programmes, including Ethiopia, Romania, Cambodia and India.

Serving local communities

In a place where religion so often divides, give thanks for new opportunities to bring people together to serve. Our new partnership with The Welcome Organisation is creating a flexible workshop space for the most vulnerable to develop skills and confidence. Thank God for our construction team; for their heart to serve and for their ability to work beside volunteers from different backgrounds and varying abilities. Ask God to lead, as we develop similar partnerships locally.

A Decent Place to live

No one lives in dignity until everyone lives in dignity. Pray for our local and global leaders, that they will be people of hope, courage and vision. Pray that they will promote and implement policies and systems that advance the case of affordable housing, and help build a community, country and world, where everyone has a decent place to live.

Coming in September..

Renowned evangelist, R T Kendall, will be speaking at two separate meetings in the Assembly Buildings Conference Centre, Fisherwick Place, Belfast on Monday 7 September 2015 at 2.30pm and 7.30pm.

This event is jointly hosted by BSNI and Precept Ministries NI. We hope many people will come to hear RT Kendall's message and be encouraged to make the Bible even more important to their lives and ministries.

Pray for RT Kendall to be guided by the Spirit in his times of preparation.

This is an opportunity not to be missed! Tickets and Further information at www.bsni.co.uk

Yes, we can

It's that time of year again - a potentially turbulent time in some parts of Belfast. Orange traditions are celebrated, orange blood gets stirred up, sometimes getting overheated; and in some quarters there can be an angry and opposite response. I wish it were otherwise - and it can be, for there is much that is good and wholesome across our society; and there is a search in many hearts for common ground and elements of shared understanding.

Whether we acknowledge it or not, we are all dependent upon each other; and we are called to engage in sincere efforts of reconciliation. This was a major theme in the Think Again initiative launched by Bishop Harold Millar at the start of the new millennium. What ever became of it? Perhaps at that time we felt unable to respond to the bishop's initiative. So now, some 15 years later, can we do better? Can we now feel more able to reach out in friendship to other traditions? The answer must be "yes we can."

The processes of reconciliation and peace building are integral to our pursuit of Christian faith. This is something that all of us on both sides of the divide must address humbly and sincerely. There is no place here for triumphalism or stern self-righteousness. Sensitivity is of the essence.

Several biblical texts point us towards the best approach to the challenge. Consider, for example, the question (and answer) posed by the prophet Micah: "And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and love mercy and to walk humbly with your God (Micah 6. v8)."

This message is clearly endorsed by Jesus in that famous passage which we know as The Beatitudes. He says "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God (Matthew 5. v9)." Then there is a substantial passage about reconciliation in Paul's second letter to the Corinthians (see 2 Corinthians 5.v11 - 6.v2). At the heart of this passage he writes "All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation."

Of course this imperative extends beyond our relationship with people nurtured in the nationalist tradition. Northern Ireland is now home to many people from widely different ethnic backgrounds. It was my privilege to participate recently in an inter-cultural workshop in the library on the Ormeau Road. On that occasion there was a sense of welcome and shared experience that went well beyond mere tolerance. The event induced me to reflect on the extent to which we are all bound together.

All these people are part of us and need to feel a sense of welcome, and of empathy. That may seem like quite a challenge, but it is wonderful what can be achieved by a smile, a handshake or a cup of tea. People respond to empathy - to something that tells them they are connected.

I guess there are several active reconciling steps that we might all take either individually or collectively. We are called - even commanded - to engage in the healing of all the resentments between people of which we are a part. Concepts like collective willingness, shared involvement (even, perhaps, occasional shared acts of worship?) come to mind.

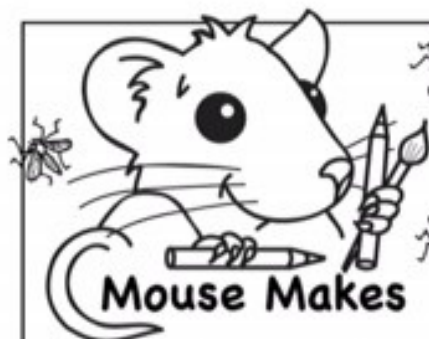

When will the Belfast Telegraph stop running headlines that contain the word "fury"? Perhaps only when there is an attitudinal change in which the summer's orange glow radiates the welcoming warmth of a glorious autumnal sunset. Can we muster the quiet courage to march along this road? I am bold enough to whisper "Yes we can."

Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said "The Lord, the God of Israel says, 'Let my people go into the desert so they can have a festival to honour me.'"

But Pharaoh said, "Who is the Lord? Why should I obey him? Why should I let Israel go? I not know who the Lord is so I refuse to let Israel go."

Pharaoh punished the Israelites but Moses prayed to the Lord and the Lord said, "I will use my great power against Pharaoh, and he will let my people go."

So the Lord turned the river Nile into blood, then he covered the land with frogs, sent a plague of gnats, then a swarm of flies, then disease on all the animals, then a skin disease, then a great storm of hail, then a plague of locusts, then darkness that covered the land...

Each time Pharaoh would not let the people go until Lord killed every first born man and animal in Egypt and Pharaoh's own son died. Then Pharaoh made the people leave Egypt with all their sheep and cattle. "Go", he said "And say a blessing for me too."

Carryduff Children's Day

Children's Day at Carryduff gave our children the opportunity to tell the congregation about their year at Sunday School: included in their story was the purchase of a donkey, a goat, three chickens and a tip tap.

These gifts were bought—from the collections children had given during the year—through Send-a-Cow and will help families far away produce food for themselves.

Olwen and Jill, Sunday School Leaders, prepared the children for their prayers, reading and story telling.

We thank them for arranging lovely refreshments after the service. The poster displaying their gifts was shown in church and is reproduced above.
