Dear Friends

It is sometimes difficult to spot a church building.

Last year in NY, NY, we were trying to visit a Presbyterian congregation just off Central Park. It is one associated with Tim Keller, one of the more famous Christian teachers these days.

We found a building which roughly matched the internet search, but outside the door was a huge guy, a bouncer, and a notice advertising some sports class. That can't be it. Where are the men in suits and ties with bits of paper to hand to the people attending? Where are the beautiful flowers on a table in the porch? What have they done with the A4 sheets advertising the rosters, the next meeting of the men's group?

A ten minute wander around the district found a few Sunday Morning coffee shops, more marvellous buildings, but no spire or gothic window or large arched doors. Let's try the coffee!

We went around the block again and took a second look at the original building. By now a different door was opened, a guy in a smart suit was carrying a skateboard up the steps, and families and singles were starting to appear. An interesting mixture was gathering. The cinema style seats made for comfortable "pews", and the jazz band ensemble was playing some fabulous music: yes, it was the stuff of fables. An hour and twenty later, we had been challenged, entertained, informed and surprised - in equal measure.

My lasting memory concerned how this church had adapted to where they were and what they were doing. The building belonged to a group founded a hundred years earlier to espouse humanism. The bouncer was operating the door for the previously booked users. The skateboarder was the preacher at our service, and even the New Yorkers thought that a board was an amusing way to arrive to speak. The cup of tea afterwards was almost as painful as any we have been to for thirty years: it lacked the warmth we normally feel in Killaney and Carryduff when we are among friends. The language of the speaker was probably correct but a little daring at times. The Bible teaching, however, was excellent, and I have thought about it often in the year since. Its theme? Stop complaining.

Hopefully, therefore, you enjoyed my letter this month, and are planning to come to worship before June is out. Because I wouldn't want to complain, would I, if you don't?

Stephen

LIFE | EXPLORED

Three weeks in and we have enjoyed good feedback and interesting comments on Life Explored. The course continues in June, and you can still join in if you wish. With two video sections, some Bible readings and a few short discussions, the programme does not give us time to drift. It ends after an hour, so no-one need be late home. 6:30 in Carryduff on 26/5, 2/6, 9/6 and 16/6. After this, our summer Sundays close until the autumn.

Readers and Volunteers

Zero. Zilch. Rien. Yes, our appeal to volunteers in a recent magazine has fallen on unlistening ears. It is never quite zero, but the response was so muted that it seemed so. Thanks to Debbie for her willingness to serve as a distributor. Two more are still needed: one for neighbours in Ballygowan Area, and one for neighbours in Manse Road Area. Some of these were posted to non-church attenders lately.

Join those who serve in the various teams, cleaning and flower arranging, Bible reading, screen operation, welcome at the doors, and setting up and tidying away at events. A smaller number may be invited to lead prayers and assist in leading services from time to time. The organ at Carryduff has an attachment which, with minimal training, can be used by a non-musician to accompany hymns at smaller services. We want an additional operator (3 in total). The screens at Carryduff are operated by pressing one or two buttons as the operator keeps up with the services. A new operator “shadows” a more experienced one until they are happy to do this on their own.

Autumn Events in planning TBC

Visit to Ireland by Bishop Moses of Maridi Diocese.

Bishop Moses will speak in either Comber Parish or Carryduff and Killaney Parishes. Details to be confirmed in the next month's magazine.

On 22nd September it is Freedom Sunday 2019.

We're really excited to discover how God is continuing grow this justice movement on the 22nd September. Our parishes will join some of the 18,426 churches across 52 countries who celebrated the event in 2018.

We are planning a possible visit to Carryduff Church by the Belfast Community Gospel Choir on Saturday 19 October.

Keep the date free for a full church with a wonderful inspiring night of wonderful music.

Harvest Celebrations are planned for October.

They will hopefully be in Carryduff all day on 6 October and in Killaney on 20 October in the afternoon. Add the dates now!

Details will be confirmed next month.

Summer Rosters online

For their last year or so the weekly and monthly rosters have been published online. Following a request by one of our members, we have recently been trying to add names to the lists slightly farther in advance, and to display them online. There is a slight issue with this type of process, in that, if a given date does not suit someone, and we swap them, how do we ensure that this swap will suit the other person?

A possible solution is for those who wish to swap to contact the other person and for one to confirm by email or message to Stephen that you both wish it. Alternatively, ask for your name to be removed from that date, and we can see whether anyone wants to take up the place. As a general rule, we will try to be about a month ahead with these rosters, though in some cases many months ahead! Visit www.carryduff-killaney.down.anglican.org/rosters to see the lists that are there. It would be beneficial if parishioners of either parish would be willing to 'manage' these rosters, particularly if they are good at managing rotas. Thanks in advance.

Flower Festival 2020

The Select Vestry in Carryduff has begun a process of arranging a Flower Festival to take place, hopefully, in 2020. When arrangements have been progressed further we will want to bring together a group of people skilled or experienced in managing such an event. More news in the Summer 2019 edition of Crossroads.

The talents needed in this group range from catering, advertising, fund raising, logistics, publishing, making contact with local groups, and recording the process so everyone is well informed.

For some a flower festival is only about flowers, but people, with or without such an interest, can have an important role to play in organising this. Please speak to Elizabeth Johnston, Joyce McMeekin or Stephen Lowry to indicate your potential willingness to help.

Carryduff Church Organisations

We wish our hall users and groups a welcome break and enjoyable holiday. May you be refreshed and ready for action again, come the autumn. To help our planning and the update of our records, will leaders please re-apply to Joyce McMeekin, our Hall Secretary, with details of your point of contact, current opening times and dates planned for meeting in 2019–2020. These details do not have to be precise, but several of the contacts appear to be out of date, and urgent messages re repairs or closures can be difficult to deliver. ## MY CHAIR

I LIKE to think this chair is mine
Where I can sit and feel at peace,
Where trial and trouble fade away
And sorrows cease.
Where I may gently lay my head
And tumble into sleep,
Cradled in your loving arms
And in your valleys deep.
So when I wake I feel refreshed
The world is made anew,
And I go forth with happy heart
And all because of you!

FATHER'S DAY

Walk a little slower, Daddy
Said a little child so small
I'm following in your footsteps
And I don't want to fall.

Sometimes your steps are very fast
Sometimes they are hard to see
So walk a little slower, Daddy
For you are leading me.

"Be strong, and of good courage,
Fear not, nor yet dismay
For God, our Lord is with us
Wherever we may stray".
Those Bible words bring comfort,
And so believe. Take heart!
Through all life's separations,
From God we never part.

Some day when I'm all grown up
You're what I want to be
Then I will have a little child
Who'll want to follow me.

And I would wait to lead just right
And know that I was true
So walk a little slower, Daddy
For I must follow you.

The Brunch: a tasty meal with a tiny catch!

It is Clean and Tidy time again for folks in Carryduff. On Saturday 29th June from 9:30 am until exhausted, we are inviting parishioners to drop in to the halls and grounds of St. Ignatius', Carryduff to assist with a Spring Clean. The buildings are swept/vacuumed and cleaned each week by our good friend Sharon, but major cleaning takes more time than her hours allow. So once or twice a year we go well beyond simple cleaning to do a good clear out and sort out of the property.

At 11:00 approximately a tasty brunch is served, and we wish to thank in advance all those who contribute their skills and energies to make the morning possible. Friendships are renewed, perspectives widened and the vestry property team assisted by your presence. On this occasion Dave and Mark ask people to bring brushes, shovels, gardening tools etc. with them to assist in the outdoor tasks, and buckets, cloths, sponges and cleaning materials to assist in the indoor work. We hope to have various tasks listed and published well before the event so that people can make a choice and bring the materials needed.

See you any time from 9:30 onwards on 29th June 2019.

When the Spirit Came (cover picture) By Lester Amann

On the day of Pentecost, the followers of Jesus met together in an upper room. Its location was probably on Mount Zion to the west of Jerusalem. The site can be visited although it's not the Upper Room. It's an ancient building dating from the 14th century and built on the site of a church destroyed by the Persians seven centuries earlier. But the first floor chamber is large with old paving stones, surrounded by stone pillars and arches. According to tradition, this is where Jesus ate the 'Last Supper' and His followers received the Holy Spirit.

On Whit Sunday, Pentecost's other title, we would do well to remember why the Holy Spirit was sent to us. We are given power to live God's way:

to lead us into the things God has prepared for us;
to worship and glorify Him;
to enable us to pray;
to lead us into truth;
to give us a desire to share the love of Christ with others and to help us trust God for all our needs.

This Pentecost may our prayer be for God's Spirit to transform us, for the gentleness of His Spirit to lead us, and for the gifts of His Spirit to equip us. Amen.

Trouble: The minister's son had just received a bad report from school. Seeking to distract his father, he asked: "Dad, what do you think is the trouble with me? Heredity, environment or just plain original sin?"

Cheers: The restaurant where I took my two sons for a meal was crowded with fans watching a sporting event on TV. The harried waitress took our order, but more than half an hour passed with no sign of her return. I was trying to keep my children from becoming restless when suddenly shouts of victory came from the bar. "Hey," commented my 11-year-old, "it sounds as if someone just got his food."

The young people took part in welcoming, lifting the collection, and serving refreshments on Sunday 12th May.

What is church for?

In Romans 1, the apostle Paul describes his mission and ministry, and therefore, by implication, the mission and ministry of the church in these terms:

“Bring about the obedience of faith.”

As is often the case in Bible reading, I just have seen these words many times before, but today they struck me as never before. A strong connection is made between obedience and faith. We, the church, are in the business of helping people come to faith and, in doing so, to become obedient to the God whom we have come to trust.

It posed me a challenge in two measures:

- How was I, as a pastor and teacher, helping people like you to come to a faith in Jesus Christ?
- How was I giving leadership in the kind of obedient life such faith entails?

This led to two further inner questions:

- Do people attending the churches realise that faith is vital and that obedience is the natural outcome of faith?
- Do people who never attend the worship realise that faith in Christ and obedience to his word is a life-giving essential?

I hope, if you are still reading this far in, that you recognise that these questions are significant- that your response to the challenge of Jesus Christ to “believe in me” is of eternal importance, and that your active response to “Follow me” is the only real evidence of a faith inside.

I am not so naïve as to think every person’s response to Jesus’ call looks the same, but Paul’s teaching implies certain similarities: we are trying to obey Christ’s commands, and we are relying upon what he’s done for us to help us do that.

“Trust and Obey” is an old hymn in our hymn books. Have a read at it sometimes. The hymn writer says that to trust and obey is the only way to be happy in Jesus. May you lean on Jesus for all your needs and learn from Jesus that his ways lead to life.

Stephen

Laodicean fervour?

The Laodicean church is described in the Bible in the book of The Revelation as being lukewarm. If the Laodiceans were to have a hymnal, suitable for their conviction, here's a list of some of the hymns it may contain:

O Come Let Us Ignore Him.
Oh, for a Couple of Tongues to Sing
Part of the Way with Jesus
Pillow of Ages, Fluffed for Me
Precious Lord, Take My Finger
Sit Up, Sit up for Jesus

Church council

The minister was praising his church council. "Unlike others I have known, where half the council does all the work and the other half are hopeless, in this church it is completely the reverse!"

What is Technology Doing To Us

Sometimes the overwhelming presence of social media can strike me as both childish and unsettling, even dangerous. Of course we always enjoy sharing family photographs on mobile phones and the convenience of sending messages simultaneously to lots of people at the touch of a button. Such things are – to borrow a phrase from Prince Harry – both amazing and incredible.

Yet there are other, rather more alarming sides to all this technology. It is evident that Twitter, for example, tends to attract bullies; and the ever rising profile of Facebook has undoubtedly damaged social cohesion. We have become a less caring society because of these things. We have also become more careless with language and with truth. Beyond this, it would also be fair to say that public trust has been dented by a rising tide of electronically generated misinformation.

Is it just me, or do other people also find it hard to place much faith in this unverifiable deluge? Much of it is childish, the language often trite or insincere; and much of it is a lot more pervasive, sinister and, arguably, dangerously influential. Should we not be more mindful of the brutal crudities of social media and the impact it can have on the well-being of an impressionable rising generation? Does it not endanger their capacity to think sympathetically and rationally for themselves?

Last year the Sunday Times ran a feature on a significant text by a high profile computer scientist (Jaron Lanier) called “Ten Arguments for Deleting your Social Media Account Right Now.” Here are three of them -

Social media: 1. is destroying your capacity for empathy.
2. is making what you say meaningless.
3. is undermining the truth.

The author, nevertheless, remains hopeful “about the potential of technology to do good for society.”

I both hope and believe this is achievable. In the meantime it would be wise to be aware of how childish the use of this wonderful technology can become. Surely no-one expressed this timeless caution more eloquently than St. Paul, when he said “When I was a child.....I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I put childish ways behind me (1 Corinthians 13 v.11).”

Maybe we all need to light a few candles and pass on faith inspired, reliable and lasting values to those around us.

Christian Funeral

"I am the Resurrection and the Life", says the Lord.

14th May Noel Thomas Frizell, Carryduff

Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord

Noel Frizell OBE

We were saddened to receive news that, after a long period in hospital, Noel Frizell from the Manse Road area had passed away. Noel and his wife Molly have been part of Carryduff since his retirement from work with the Northern Ireland Prison Service, a role which was recognised by his award of an OBE in 1991. Seeking to serve others, and support his colleagues in their working lives, the service of Thanksgiving was well attended by his colleagues from old. Many of them had great stories to tell of Noel's friendship and kindness as a member of the Union.

Noel was one of six children in his family and his surviving brothers and sisters were prayed for, along with his wife, daughter Tanya, son in law Derek, and grandson Aaron. He took great delight in his family and used any excuse to spend time with them, and especially so when retirement made such time so much easier to give.

He was always a mechanic and a keen gardener and was only too happy to bring lawnmowers back to life after their owners had given up on them.

His cheerful disposition and generous heart will be missed by all who knew him.

Take your grandparents on holiday!

British families should do what families in southern Europe do – take the extended family on holiday, especially the grandparents, and include them more into their daily lives.

So urges Mims Davies, the Minister for Sport. She says that when visiting some of Europe's beaches, "you will find this huge, wonderful plethora of people on the beach and you will think 'doesn't that look fun?' I think that when we are a little more bold about how we do things, we find so much more joy in it. I was there for the latter parts of my parents' lives – I will never regret that. You won't get that time again."

Holiday Plans? How about going North?

Among the many summer activities parishioners enjoy, spending time in caravans and homes on the North Coast is popular.

Keswick at Portstewart is an annual event for some, as gifted Bible teachers drop into the tent behind the Promenade and our (favourite) seaside town. Their website will reveal all the details. Go to keswickatportstewart.org to find out more about John Allcock, Jonty Rhodes, Malcolm Duncan and the children's programme with CSSM. Dates are Saturday 6 to Friday 12 July.

This year The Open® is taking place at Royal Portrush Golf Club and homes on the coastline have been snapped up by fans of the talented players from around the world, who will visit our shores for this event. We trust the weather is helpful to ensure challenging and enthralling golf is on offer. Dates: 18–21 July. See www.theopen.com for more information.

Radical Hospitality is the title of this year's New Horizon event, also in the Coleraine Triangle area. Taking place from 3rd to 9th August, New Horizon is an all age teaching and fellowship event which draws enormous crowds of people from Northern Ireland and further afield. Bible Teaching with Gilbert Lennox starts at 10:00 am from Monday to Friday, and the Evening Celebration with Rosaria Butterfield (Mon & Tues) & Tim Chester (Wed - Fri) starts at 7:30 pm, also in the main tent.

Tim Chester is known to those who have bought and read the Lenten books in our parishes in 2018 and 2019. One of the worship leaders at the event (Saturday and Sunday) is Stuart Townend, known for his part in hymns such as "In Christ alone", "How deep the Father's love for us" and "The Power of the Cross", firm favourites at KandCd!

We hope some of you will take time to be present at these North Coast Treats during the Summer of 2019.

Summer Promenades

The long summer evenings are upon us and things begin to get quiet with Parishioners taking well earned holidays.

There are still plenty of us at home and as Church activities are curtailed we felt it might be a good idea if those of us who are around over the summer got together occasionally to go for a walk. Some of us might be less fit than others so we think we should start off gently and meet once a fortnight to walk for around an hour. We could try to keep the walks local and we might even be able to squeeze in a cup of something nice. The important thing is to keep in touch and have plenty of chat.

We hope many of you will think this is a good idea and will join us. To get things going we suggest that we should meet in the car-park at the bottom of Newforge Lane beside the Lagan at 7.00pm on Tuesday 11th June and we can walk through the Park and down the towpath so far as we are inclined!

Keep every other week after that free. We are thinking about nice local walks and will provide details soon – if you have any good ideas please send them by email to:

May Photo Fun

The children of J Club enjoy craft and games at their Friday 10th May gathering in the sunny evening. The parachute game is ever popular

The young people of J Club Plus were out together recently to the Escape Rooms in Belfast - and enjoyed a good feed afterwards!

The "slightly older" members of "S Club" enjoyed a picnic lunch at the midweek fellowship on 22nd May
