Dear Friends,
There is no doubt that the arrival of a first grandchild is potentially the most exciting moment of many lives, and I have to say that Vera and I were delighted to welcome our first grandchild to our home in recent weeks. She is already precious, special, beautiful, add-more-such-words, and the current joy of our lives. What makes her most special is that she is a gift from God for all of us and she has been a blessing to her parents and the entire family circle. God is good.

We have been fascinated by the care and attention her parents have taken in choosing her names. One of the fascinating aspects was their decision to 'wait until we see her' before they decided what her name would be. Even when she was born it took a few hours of studying her to make sure her name was a good fit!

The giving of a name is a sign of loving care on the part of parents: the time spent reflecting is an indicator of the importance of that name. In church history it has often been the practice for a new life in Christ, a newly born again believer, to take on a new name, often called a baptismal name. When we belonged to no religion or a non-christian religion the old name may have reflected loyalty to a prophet or god or goddess, and it is clearly a splendid decision to take a new name which reflects our new Christ-centred status.

If you were to take on a new name, what would it be? Would you be a Paul or a Peter, a Magdalena or an Elizabeth? Perhaps you would get an adopted name of Christian, or Christiana as the characters in Pilgrim's Progress were named? Or, like most of you, would you want to rededicate the name your parents gave you to your new Christian status, and become the true man or woman whom God appointed you to be!

Stephen, a (struggling but determined) Christian.

Harvest Gift Envelopes

Enclosed with your magazine, in most cases, is a Harvest Envelope for Church Funds.

In Carryduff we have opened an account with this Harvest Appeal, to create a fund dedicated to the repair of the roofs and supporting structures in our buildings. A recent Quinquennial report indicated the likelihood of a need to do major work in the next decade, and while continuing with minor works from general funds, we wish to set aside money, specifically for this major work.

Killaney parishioners are encouraged to continue the tradition of a Harvest Gift as we continue our work of repairing and repainting the church windows and interior, and as work on the perimeter walls is begun.

In both St. Ignatius', Carryduff and St. Andrew's, Killaney your Harvest Gift Envelopes will be welcomed on Harvest Sunday, or the weeks following. Your anticipated generosity is appreciated.

Mothers' Union

The Mother's Union will meet again on Thursday 3rd October at 8pm in the Mitchell Room.

This month we are very excited to be having a representative from Belfast Street Pastors joining us.

Street Pastors were pioneered in London in 2003 by Les Isaac.

Since then they have trained over 12,000 volunteers from local churches.

Street Pastors patrol our streets in teams of men and women, usually from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. on a Friday and Saturday night.

They play an active part in strengthening community life and working for safer streets.

Currently, more than 300 towns and cities around the UK, including Belfast have a Street Pastors team

Anyone over the age of 18, who is a committed Christian can train to join the team.

Why not come along to find out more
All welcome and remember you don't have to be a woman or a mother to join us!

Harvest Thanksgiving Festivals 2019

Carryduff

On Sunday 6th October at 10:30, the Harvest Thanksgiving Service is due to take place. We look forward to hearing from Pastor Gavin Allen of Carryduff Elim Church for his first preaching engagement in St Ignatius' Church.

Decorating for the Harvest takes place at 4:00 pm and 7:30 pm on Friday 4 October, and you are advised that contributions of articles for use in the displays may be left at the church anytime on Friday.

We try to make the service a family friendly occasion and Sunday School will take place as usual so our younger members can enjoy both the beautifully decorated church, and can respond to the gifts of God at Harvest time in their own way.

The evening service will also include traditional Harvest music!

The distribution of gifts from the Harvest will take place at 10:00 am on Monday 7 October. Those who have a particular request for a gift for a friend or neighbour may like to contact the church office beforehand to let us know. We appreciate the help you all give at this special time.

Killaney

As mentioned in the Killaney Notes, we plan to celebrate Harvest with a Thanksgiving Service on the afternoon of 20th October in St Andrew's, followed by refreshments. Afterwards, some of the items on display will be sold for church funds. Our preacher this year is The Rev Sam Johnston, newly appointed minister in charge of St Mary's, Comber.

Thank You

The Larder food bank in Mersey Street, Belfast is overwhelmed by the generous monthly donations of food by the parishioners of Carryduff and Killaney.

Approximately 40 shopping bags of food were delivered in September. A few Sundays before they arrived they had almost nothing on the shelves to give out.

I was so encouraged to hear of this ministry in which they are helping to alleviate the hardship of others while creating an atmosphere of friendship and fellowship amongst those who benefit so much from the provisions freely and lovingly donated. Last Sunday, the church was full of people enjoying breakfast and worshipping together.

It would be appreciated if gifts of food were left in both parishes on the 1st or 2nd Sundays of each month. Keith will deliver them to the Larder.

ANNUAL COFFEE MORNING & CAKE SALE

Saturday 2nd November at 10.30 am

A reminder of all we have to be thankful for, especially at harvest time:
Bread is a lovely thing to eat, God bless the barley and the wheat.
A lovely thing to breathe is air, God bless the sunshine everywhere.
The earth's a lovely place to know, God bless the folk that come and go.
Alive's a lovely thing to be, Giver of life, we say Bless Thee.

I run.

Among low-limbed, lavish pines that quilt the path
with perfumed needles;
beneath the morning call
of a meadowlark to his mate,
I run.

Past crocus and violet
that hem the earth
with brilliant stitching
and over logs across a stream;
I run

my breath fast,
my legs strong,
my soul full.

With a joyous sun
fingering my face,

I run
and feel God's pleasure.

New Bishop Sought With Prayer

Call to prayer

In a joint statement, the two Deans, the Very Revd Geoff Wilson (Dromore) and the Very Revd Henry Hull (Down) have encouraged people to hold the process before God in their prayers:

Two nights of prayer will take place - in Down Cathedral on Friday 4 October and in Dromore Cathedral on Friday 25 October. Both nights will run from 7.30–9.30 pm.

“The task of choosing a new Bishop for our Diocese and for the wider Church is a serious responsibility which will be undertaken by a group of electors from this Diocese and from other Dioceses in the Northern Province of the Church of Ireland. It is extremely important that we each commit to praying for those entrusted with this responsibility, that they will be open to the leading of God’s Holy Spirit as they undertake their task. There will be a night of prayer in each Cathedral during October, but everyone – even those unable to attend either night – is encouraged to pray every day for this process, in order that God’s will should become clear through it.”

A Prayer for use during the Vacancy of a See (BCP 2004)

O almighty God, who by thy Holy Spirit dost move the hearts of thy people; May it please thee so to direct the counsels of those who are appointed to choose a bishop for this Church and Diocese, that we may be given a pastor who in faithfulness and wisdom shall lead thy flock in the way of holiness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A Young Girl's Dream

Others before ourselves

My eldest daughter Violet often has a way of reminding me just how important it is to think of others before ourselves. She is often (but not always!) willing to share with and give to others, making little gifts and giving what she can. Quite honestly, she humbles me on almost a daily basis.

This Autumn, Violet wants to help those who have lost their home and with it, their dignity. She is doing this by making up 'blessing bags' for those living on the streets or in hostels. We have teamed up with a local charity 'Depaul' who work across Northern Ireland to support and help those who are homeless or at risk of homelessness.

I have included a link to their website for those who would like to find out more - <https://ie.depaulcharity.org/about-us>.

Over the coming months, Violet and her family will collect items and make up bags of essential items which will then be distributed through the charity to those who are most in need of them. With winter just around the corner, this is especially important.

If you feel you could support us, a donation of any item below would be hugely appreciated.

Donations can be left at either St. Ignatius' Parish Church, or Killaney Parish Church.

Thank you in advance to all of you for your support of Violet in her quest to help others!

Gloves, Hats, Scarves, Socks

Toiletries -

The tale of the Prodigal Son

JESUS OFTEN TOLD STORIES WITH HIDDEN MEANINGS

ONE STORY WAS ABOUT A MAN WHO HAD TWO SONS.

ONE WAS HARD WORKING AND CARED FOR HIS FATHER

BUT THE OTHER SON JUST DEMANDED MONEY FROM HIS DAD

THEN HE LEFT HOME TO WASTE
HIS WEALTH.

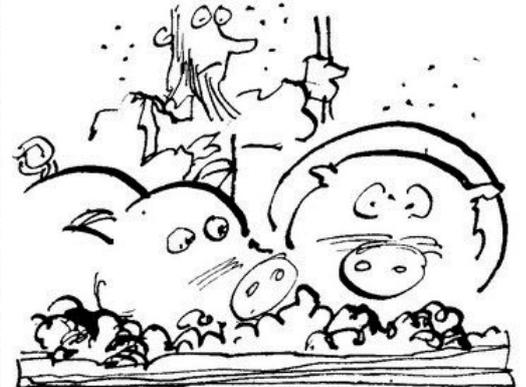

HE HAD MANY FRIENDS...

...UNTIL HIS MONEY RAN OUT

SOON, THE ONLY WAY HE COULD SURVIVE WAS BY FEEDING PIGS.

I KNOW, I'LL GO BACK TO MY DAD AND SAY SORRY - BUT HE'LL BE SO CROSS.

BUT HIS FATHER WAS FAR FROM ANGRY - HE WAS THRILLED TO SEE HIS SON RETURN HOME!

MY SON IS ALIVE!!

JESUS EXPLAINED - WE HAVE A FATHER
IN HEAVEN WHO ACHES TO SEE US ALL RETURN TO HIM - JUST LIKE THE PRODIGAL SON RETURNED TO HIS FATHER.

A Joyous Farewell

It was a great privilege to be in Down Cathedral on the evening of Thursday 19 September 2019. The occasion was a service to mark the retirement of the Rt. Revd. Harold Miller as Bishop of Down and Dromore. And what a service!

It began with a spectacular and lengthy multi-denominational procession of robed clergy. Then the cathedral choir, located in the gallery, sang a short motet in Latin, Locus Iste, (Surely the Lord is in this place) by Anton Bruckner. Immediately we knew that we were present on a special and very unique occasion.

This was a cross-community event in which representatives from the worlds of politics, sport, the media and the wider Christian family were present.

During the service there were several quite modern hymns and spiritual songs, although the recessional hymn – “Lord, for the years your love has kept and guided....,” was both familiar and entirely appropriate.

There can be no doubt that the main thrust of the service was on youth and the capacity of younger people to undertake leadership roles in the Church. This was clear from the two bible readings (Jeremiah 1. v4–10) and 1st. Timothy 4. v12–16). This second reading was full of encouragement for youth. It began with the words “Let no one despise you for your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity.....”

Then, even more strikingly, we had three – yes three – short sermons, all of them given by young people, none of whom was wearing traditional clerical robes. All three of them – Mark, Emma and John - spoke from the heart, drawing on the reading from 1st. Timothy, and telling the packed congregation that we should seek to be the source of growth and of positive change in the Church. I’m sure this would have gladdened the heart of Bishop Harold.

As the service drew to its close we heard a gentle prayer sung by a group of monks from Holy Cross Abbey in Rostrevor. Then, humbly kneeling, the Bishop laid his staff of office on the Holy Table as the congregation sang:

*“He will hold me fast, he will hold me fast;
For my Saviour loves me so,
He will hold me fast.”*

After the service there was a reception in an adjoining marquee, hosted by BBC personality Mark Simpson. During this, several distinguished people paid tribute to Bishop Harold both in person and via video link.

Presentations of gifts were made to both the (now former) bishop and to Mrs Miller.

In response, although Bishop Miller resisted the temptation to preach, he took the opportunity to encourage all of us to welcome young people uncritically, to greet them with love, to encourage them to speak and to use their own particular gifts in the name of the Church. Lastly he asked that we might pray for the new incoming bishop, "whoever he or she might be."

It was a longish but uniquely memorable evening and I was pleased to have had the opportunity to be there.

Bishop Moses visits Carryduff and Killaney

During his visit to Ireland in August and September, Bishop Moses Zunga, diocesan bishop of Maridi South Sudan, spent several hours with us here. Accompanied by his wife, Mama Rejoice, also a lay reader in her home diocese, Bishop Moses shared both his excitement and his concern for the church in his home place.

In his sermons he reflected on the role neighbours play in holding one another up, leaning in together, as he reflected on the story of the Good Samaritan. He also expressed how he deeply valued the support of our parishes for both Maridi and the next door diocese, Olo.

At an event in St Mary's Comber, also attended by several of our parishioners, Bishop Moses was presented with two gifts of £500 each from Killaney and Carryduff, by Mrs Marlene Moore.

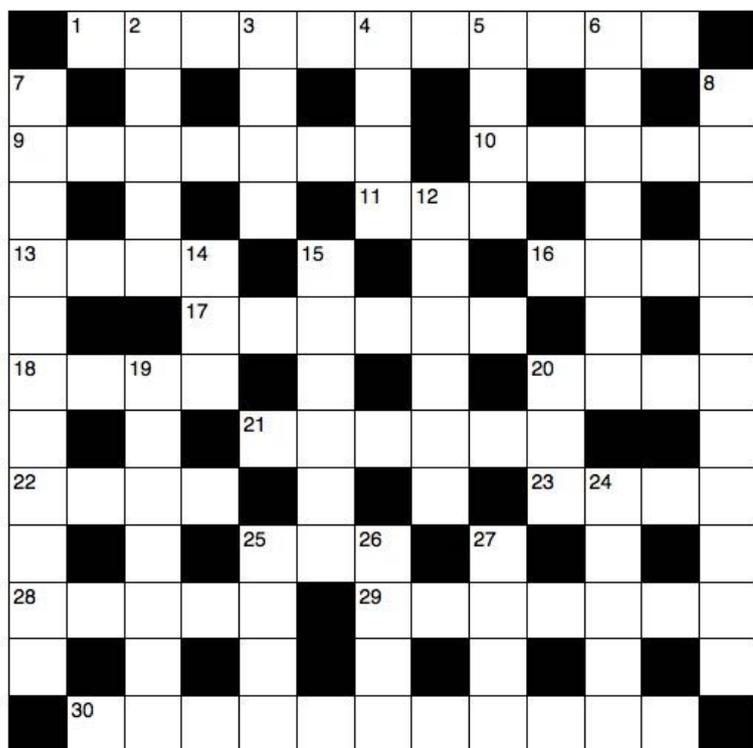

J Club were very active in September with activities in both the church building and halls:

MOMENTS

Nick and Carol Pollard from EthosMedia.org share thought-provoking reflections on the latest films.

The art of loving?

Ostensibly, The Art of Racing in the Rain might seem to be a film about cars and dogs. But profoundly it is about life and love.

The story is told from the perspective of Enzo, a golden retriever picked out of a litter by Denny, an aspiring Formula One driver.

As Enzo accompanies Denny to the track, racing provides a metaphor for life, and a source of reflective aphorisms such as:

“No race is ever won on the first corner, but many are lost there” and “The best drivers don’t dwell on the future or the past, they focus only on the present”.

We see, through Enzo’s eyes, a different perspective on familiar life events: falling in love, caring for a child, balancing work and family... And the relationship between Enzo and Denny highlights the common thread of love.

Love takes time to build. When Denny first meets Eve, who becomes his wife, it is clear that she is not a dog-person, and Enzo is not an Eve-person. But gradually they too develop a close bond.

Love is self-sacrificial. When Denny’s professional life conflicts with his family responsibilities he relinquishes opportunities that would advance his career.

But misguided love can also be restrictive. Eve’s parents feel that they must protect her from Denny’s lack of financial security and his dangerous job. And when Eve gives birth to a baby girl, they feel it is their duty to step in and provide for her.

As the film switches between the racetrack and the family home we are caused to contemplate life - the bumps along the road, the rain that falls, and the unexpected events that can take us off course. But, most of all, we might reflect on the nature of love – how to build it, how to give ourselves sacrificially for others, and how to enable our loved-ones to flourish.
