Crossroads November 2018

Dear Friends

We gathered on a recent Wednesday with thoughts of a good friend who had passed away. It made me think of the cost and value of friendships.

The joys and pains of friendship

There is a real and deep emotional attachment that the healthy human being makes with the people around them, which is at the same time both joyful and painful.

The first days at a new school were moments of panic: will I have any friends? A few weeks later we know the answer, hopefully, yes, but occasionally not yet.

1 Friendship involves risk

You have to reach out to others if you are to make friends and often the first few words you say make all the difference. You may be rejected, or you may be accepted. Friendships involve risk.

2 Friendship involves joy

When you click with a colleague at work or a friend in church or a person in your class, you get inner energy which gives you a real boost and a deep joy. The risk is worth it because Friendships involve joy.

3 Friendship involves pain

However, there is also the issue of the ending of the friendship. Sometimes the person is not what you thought they were: their outer performance hid an inner nastiness, or their apparent niceness was just a cover to find someone to inflate their ego. Friendships involve pain.

4 Friendship involves loss

When we mourn the loss of a friendship, through the death of a friend, aspects of their memory are special to each of us. So we need to share ourselves, take the risk together, enjoy time and talk together and build the life together if we are to become real friends.

I hope you have good friends and that you use our midweek fellowship, our church groups, our times of worship and refreshment times, organisations and activities to make some new friendships and to strengthen those you already have.

Jesus said to his disciples "I call you friends". It is wonderful that our relationships in the church can help us come closer to God as well

Stephen

Killaney Coffee Morning and Cake Sale

Saturday 3rd November at 10.30 am in Killaney. All welcome.

This always proves to be a great chance to meet up, have a chat, enjoy some beautiful pastries and scones, all for the good of Church funds. When our friends from Carryduff drop in it makes it into an extra treat.

Men's Breakfast on Saturday 1st December in Flying Angel Mission

The men of the parish and community are invited to come to Belfast, to the Mission to Seafarers situated near the docks, for our next Men's Breakfast. The Mission to Seafarers serves those who visit Belfast docks on the various ships which bring a vast amount of goods into our country. Many of the sailors are from distant ports, far from home, and are in need of a warm hearted welcome.

This they receive at the Flying Angel Mission, Princes Dock St, Belfast.

We will be gathering there at 9 o'clock on Saturday 1st December to enjoy a cooked breakfast and to meet with the people there. On this occasion we encourage all attending to bring an item for the men's Christmas boxes. Deodorant, shampoo, shaving products and other items would be appreciated. The team at the mission will put these into boxes for Christmas for the seafarers.

We will also bring the knitted goods which parishioners have been creating.

So we can inform the small staff of numbers - there is only one person in the kitchen - please let Stephen know you plan to come by text message or email or by filling in a form on one of the two wardens' tables. Cost is the usual £5:00 payable on the day.

Anyone accompanying the gentlemen will have an early start on the Christmas shopping too!

The chaplain, Colin Hall-Thompson, looks forward to meeting us, and extends a warm invitation to the ladies to come on a different occasion, probably to be arranged in the New Year.

Stephen

Operation Christmas Child Shoe Boxes

Shoe Boxes are due back at St Ignatius' and St Andrew's now. Please make sure you have followed the instructions and have labelled the boxes with the age of child for which the enclosures are suitable. Thank you for your generous gifts to the children.

Mothers' Union

Our next meeting will be on Thursday 8th November at 8.00 pm in the Mitchell Room.

Have you ever wanted to know how to make a button hole or a Christmas floral decoration?

Now's your chance. Our own resident florists, Joyce and Elizabeth will be with us to teach us just that.

Why not come along and give it a go? Everyone is most welcome. Other dates for the Diary:

Monday 5th November

Diocesan Council meeting at Belvoir Parish Church at 7.30 pm.

Please let Vera or Jenny know if you are keen to attend.

Thursday 6th December

Christmas Outing at the Ivanhoe, Carryduff at 7.30pm.

Cost is £22.95.(£26.45 if you're having salmon) This will be collected at the meeting on November 8th. Please bring the correct change if you can.

Women's Aid - please bring along Xmas gifts for the "older woman"

Jenny Montgomery

Word ALIVE:

Be Reconciled

During November we will explore some bible passages which guide us about being reconciled, at peace with God and with one another.

- Are you often troubled, anxious, or unable to make up after a falling out?
- Do you hold grudges for years against some person or some group of people?
- When you worship and say "as we forgive others", do you mentally skip those words?

In these studies in November we will ask God to show us where we have gone wrong, and, more importantly, how we can be made right in these areas of life.

While the studies will be at a surface level, it can help sometimes to begin a conversation with others, and then continue it later.

We meet at 8:00 pm in the warmth of the rectory sitting room. The evening begins at 8:00 pm with a tea or coffee and ends before 9:30 pm

CMS Ireland: Sunday 19 November

Linda Abwa is paying a return visit to us on Sunday 18th November. Linda will have up-to-date news on our partners in Olo Diocese and Maridi, following recent trips to visit them in temporary exile in Uganda.

Please continue your support by attending these services.

November 2018

Remembrance Sunday

2018 marks the 100th Anniversary of the ending of the war.

One hundred years ago this year the armistice was signed at the end of the "War to end all wars". The aspirations of those involved were positive and forward looking, yet, sadly, their hopes were not fulfilled.

When the practice of remembering Armistice Day became widespread, the season gradually came to be used, not just for one war, but for all wars. The poppy became the symbol which we continue to use today.

Let us be notable in our era as those who stand up for peace, even though working for peace often means laying our lives on the line.

On 11th November our parishes will join with people all over the world in remembering the end of World War 1.

Bells

Her Majesty's government has requested that bells be tolled in all places of worship at 12:30 pm on 11th November and we trust both churches will sound out their bells at that time.

Volunteers to perform this should contact the rector.

Local Acts of Remembrance

Remembrance Sunday this year occurs on 11/11. On that day, the people of Carryduff and Killaney will once more gather at their places of worship to remember those who served in the cause of peace. Wreathes will be laid at the main service in each church.

We warmly invite all, whether parishioners or not, to gather at these solemn events for the Act of Remembrance.

Uniformed organisations will attend St Ignatius', along with those bearing medals as a sign of their service in the community. The numbers of young people present influences the tone of the service, which is both solemn yet appreciated by younger people.

St Andrew's welcomes parishioners of all ages to play their part and Sunday School takes place as usual.

November Rosters

Flowers: Gunnel Rainey

Cleaning: Jane Todd & Sandra Duffey

Food Bank

During the month of November there will be a box at the back of the Church to put goods in. The following are very much needed: washing powder, washing detergent, deodorant, hair shampoo, toothpaste, soap, kitchen rolls, toilet rolls and cereals. Thank you for your support.

I'VE LEARNED...

... That just one person saying to me, 'You've made my day!' makes my day.
... That you should never say no to a gift from a child.
... That simple walks with my father around the block on summer nights when I was a child did wonders for me as an adult.

REMEMBRANCE

During the last war a young RAF pilot received a medal for some heroic deed from the late King George VI.

Naturally his family asked many questions about the splendour of Buckingham Palace and his meeting with the King. Whatever feelings he voiced, his private feelings were best expressed in a little verse found with his private possessions after he had been killed while on active service.

The King's Friend

They who are called by an earthly king
And are bidden to meet the great;
Who are asked to dine at the royal court
In earthly splendour and state.
They come from his presence with face alight,
With a proud and lifted head;
They are eager to tell what they saw and heard,
And repeat what the great one said.

But we who have supped with the King of kings;
And have eaten the Heavenly Bread,
Are we eager to say what we saw and heard,
And tell what the King has said?
Are we proud that the King has called us friends
And bidden us seek His face?
Do we tell the world of His matchless love,
Do we speak of His wondrous grace?

Think about this and then read St John, Chapter 14, verses 2 and 3

Guitars

If any of the young people at J Club, especially leaders and over 10's, would like to be part of a short course to learn the basics of the guitar, please contact your Big Leader. The timing of such a short course will depend on those interested in being part of it.

The course is free and we may be able to help with the provision of instruments for those willing to be part of the new praise band.

African Children's Choir Concert

On Friday 3rd January 2019 we are thrilled to be hosting the African Children's Choir again in concert.

We need your help to make this wonderful event a special celebration as we enter into a new year together.

We are asking that 50 parishioners buy two tickets for themselves and sell TWO to others.

What a wonderful Christmas gift!

For a family member, friend, or a neighbour.

The evening will begin with a drinks reception, followed by the concert. There will be a delicious finger buffet during the interval, before settling back to enjoy the remainder of the concert. You will also get the opportunity to purchase any of the Choir CD's and other items on sale.

As a Church family let's make this a truly wonderful and successful event in our Parish.

Ticket prices: Adults £7.00 Children £4.00 or a family ticket £20.00

During a few Sundays in November tickets will be available as the refreshments are served.

Please go to the person assisting at the ticket table.

For tickets or extra info please contact Keith 07901935205

Accommodation for African Children's Choir

We have invited the children of the next African Children's Choir to sing in Carryduff Parish and to stay in accommodation offered by parishioners for one night. If you have suitable space for one or more adult leaders and two or more children, please make yourself known to Keith Shaw.

Not every offer can be accepted as the specific safety demands of the movement involves strict control of the numbers of children and leaders accommodated in each case.

Your help would be greatly appreciated.

Bible Bite

A short story from the Bible

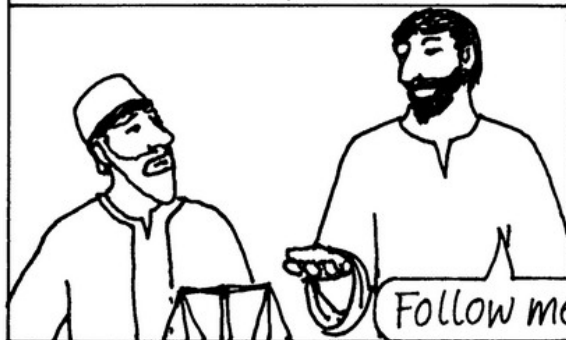

It can be read in the Bible in
Mt 9:9-13, Mk 2:13-15, Lk 5:27-32

The Roman invaders had given the job of collecting their taxes to local Jews who also overcharged, so they were doubly hated.

Matthew had his tax office by Lake Galilee.

Jesus walked past, and said

Follow me

Matthew left everything and went with Jesus.

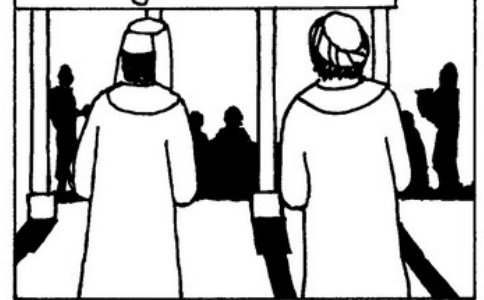

Matthew held a big feast and invited his friends so they could meet Jesus.

They were other tax collectors and bad people

The Pharisees saw Jesus eating with them.

They grumbled to Jesus' disciples.

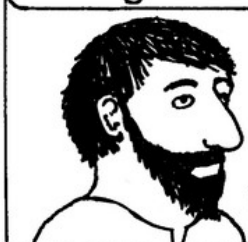

Why is your teacher eating with all those bad people?

Jesus heard them and said

Who needs a doctor, healthy people or the sick?

Try reading 'keeping rules doesn't make up for not having kindness.' *

*Hosea 6:6

Hosea was talking about people who looked like they were following God's rules but were bad inside.

I have come for the people who need my help.

The Love in a simple gift

I have always been encouraged by our combined parish response to the annual Shoe Box Appeal. That appeal, under the name Operation Christmas Child, has been a significant and clearly visible part of our outreach programme since the year 2000 AD, and it is heart-warming to know that we are part of a large and well established world-wide mission effort.

It would be good to think that we could contribute about one hundred boxes to this year's appeal. We just about reached that figure last year, and in 2016 our total ran to 126.

The mission of Operation Christmas Child is to show the love of God in a tangible way to needy and suffering children around the world and, together with the local Church world-wide, to share the good news of the real message of Christmas.

It is a sobering thought that the children who receive these boxes will probably get nothing else this Christmas. Our boxes offer Christmas joy and, at the same time, help to meet the critical needs of the many innocent child victims of war, poverty, famine, disease and natural disaster.

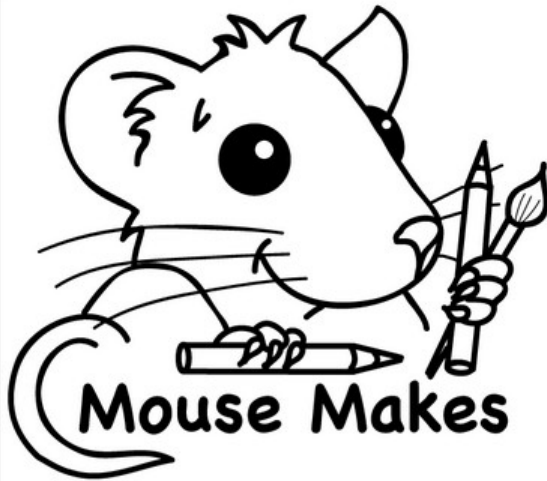

BUT that's not all. In many parts of the world, wherever it is possible, the children receiving the boxes are told the Christmas story and introduced to the Christian faith. I once heard this whole outreach effort referred to as the biggest Sunday School in the world.

So just how big is this outreach effort? Well, last year four lorries were loaded with shoe boxes from Northern Ireland. One of them (containing our 100 boxes) went to Ukraine. Another lorry went to Romania and the other two travelled to Belarus. Of course we are just a small part of the overall programme. In fact the total number of gift filled shoe boxes sent from Northern Ireland was 37,462.

And there's more! The total from the whole of the United Kingdom was 678,942 and - hold your breath - the total number of shoe boxes distributed world-wide was a staggering 11 Million. In other words, the love of God and the joy of Christmas has touched millions of young lives through the power of a simple gift.

It is our enduring privilege to be a part of it.

Christmas Wreath Workshop

We hope to hold a workshop on Tuesday 11th December at 10.00am and 7.00pm. Last year we had great fun and made beautiful Christmas wreaths. With the profits we purchased two trolleys for catering purposes. This year we should like to buy recycling bins for our revamped kitchen. The cost is £25 and this includes all the materials and refreshments. Thanks. Joyce

Edwina Scott

Edwina was the daughter of Edmund and Margaret McGready of Saintfield. When she was about 21 she met Raymond Scott and they were married in Saintfield Parish Church by Canon Norman Woodrow. Edwina later began working in Forster Green as a nursing auxiliary and, after the children were born, went back to nursing, this time in Hollygate Nursing Home where she served for 23 years.

She and Raymond had been blessed with two children, Claire and Christopher, and she was a devoted and caring mother, continuing to serve her family with a willing heart and a generous spirit.

During the summer a potentially life-threatening illness was discovered and, after a few weeks in the care of her daughter's ward at the Ulster Hospital, she was admitted to the Marie Curie Hospice for palliative care, with a view to spending her remaining months at home.. Sadly that hope faded within weeks, and she slipped away at Marie Curie.

The church family knew Edwina as a regular worshipper, a tireless worker, a faithful friend and a valued member of the Mothers' Union. We remember in prayer Edwina's sisters, daughter Claire with David and little Jorja, son Christopher with Helen, and Raymond.

Jack Wilson

Jack Wilson was buried at Killaney after a wonderful service in St Mark's Newtownards led by the Rev Chris Matchett. He was remembered at the service by his family and friends, with several hundred present.

Helen Gordon

The former owner of the Primrose Inn in Ballynahinch, Helen died in Scotland in October. After an informal service in the town, her many friends and family gathered at Killaney for a short service of thanksgiving and committal.

Bryan Holliday

Bryan was a much valued member of St Patrick's Drumbeg where he had served as Treasurer and Gift Aid organiser for many years. He had recently become an important and much loved member of the midweek communion group at St. Ignatius', Carryduff, and most of the regular worshippers here joined with family and friends at Drumbeg to thank God for his life and witness.

October News

Organ

Arriving just in time for a Harvest Wedding and the Annual Harvest Services, a new organ produced by Viscount Classical Organa Ltd and installed by Jeffers Music of Co Cork, was well received by the congregation at Carryduff.

The instrument features an array of sounds and stops which promise an excellent background for both formal and contemporary worship in the church building.

Dean Geoff Wilson, of Dromore Cathedral, dedicated the instrument to the glory of God as a token of thanksgiving for mothers and all they mean to us. We thank those who donated towards the cost of our new instrument.

Some of the Harvest flowers were displayed this year in delightful arrangements which could then be given out - without any rearrangement - to various parishioners and friends. We thank those who created these on the Friday and then distributed them on the Monday.

Lantern

Killaney's Harvest, likewise, began with a dedication. This time the Lantern in the Porch was dedicated by the rector in memory of Barry Finlay. Barry was a much admired member of the local community in Boardmills and Downpatrick, where he worked as a solicitor. His devotion to our church was a blessing to all of us and his sudden death is still remembered. The Lantern is made of glass with three lights which greatly improve the welcome given to worshippers as they enter the building.

The Harvest was doubly special with people attending for the first time in what seemed like a best ever Harvest congregation, as well as the very tasteful traditional decorations in the church. From the flax at the door and the turf on the turf barrow to the bread and grapes on the Communion Table, each window and pew spoke of the glory of God's gifts at the Harvest.

We thank all who provided and presented the floral gifts and those who created and served the Harvest Tea. After a slight delay everyone was able to return home safe and well, by the end of the day.

Harvest Appeals

Both parishes are undertaking some painting, and Harvest Appeals were issued for both. It is too early to report final figures but we appreciate all that has been given so far, and encourage those who want their church buildings to look their best to continue their generous support. The repair and painting of the exteriors of windows of Killaney will be started soon, as will the interior painting of St. Ignatius'.

Killaney Knits!

We have delivered our first batch of "knits - along with some from St Ignatius' - to The Mission to Seafarers at Prince's Dock Street in Belfast.

Thank you to everyone for their very generous contributions in time and talent and for the donations of wool. We hope to make a further delivery on 1 December, so please keep knitting.

To find out more about where these hats and scarves are going, come along to the Men's Breakfast at the Mission to Seafarers in Princes Dock Street on 1st December, or, possibly, a proposed Ladies Coffee Morning to take place at a later date in the same venue!
